

Artist Submission Information

Custom Comics

Atlantis Studios' primary business is the creation of work-for-hire science fiction, fantasy, and action-adventure sequential art for a variety of clients such as publishers, film makers, video game developers, advertising agencies, and not-for-profit organizations. Customers pay a flat rate for the production of original custom comics, storyboards, or specialty art, and Atlantis Studios typically commits to deliver finished art within 30-90 days.

Because the fees to customers are set at a competitive rate to draw in business, artists who work as part of the Atlantis Studios staff must commit in advance to a page rate set in advance by what the client has agreed to pay. When a job is offered by a client, it will be offered to the artist typically within the range offered below. If the Artist agrees to the job, he/she must commit to the required deadline, and deliver quality work on time. Artists who consistently meet and exceed client's expectations will be invited to become part of the "featured" staff and have their portfolio featured on the Atlantis Studios web-site (www.atlantisstudios.net).

Submission Guidelines

TLC is looking for self-contained, original Lara Croft comics of 4, 8, 12, or 16 pages in length. Each story must have COMPLETED penciling, inking, and lettering prior to submission. Work that is submitted for the interior of the fanzine must be black and white only. Stories must be drawn in dimensions that can be reduced to comic book format of 6.5" x 10". Tales of Lara Croft - like all Atlantis publications - will not publish content that exceeds the typical constraints of the games' "Teen" rating or "PG-13" film ratings. Profanity, nudity, excessive or graphic violence will not be published.
